PRIVACY POLICY

eNaSiS (Pty) Ltd ("eNaSiS") has created this Privacy Policy in order to set forth the principles governing our information gathering and dissemination practices, including but not limited to such activities as forums, chat rooms, personal profile pages, product reviews, article commentary, blogs, RSS feeds and newsletters, among other offerings. eNaSiS has a strong commitment to the privacy of our users. Please note that this Privacy Policy applies only to information collected through eNaSiS and not to information collected offline or to information you may provide to any third-party sites to which eNaSiS may link, except as expressly provided herein.

Information We Collect

There are two kinds of information that eNaSiS can obtain about you: "Anonymous Information" and "Personally Identifiable Information."

"Anonymous Information" consists of non-personally-identifiable data, such as your Internet Protocol ("IP") address or domain, or information about your usage on eNaSiS that is used for administrative purposes only. For example, an IP address is a unique string of numbers that is assigned to your computer by your Internet Service Provider. Web servers automatically identify your computer by its IP address. We may collect our users' IP addresses for such purposes as to help diagnose problems with our servers and to report aggregate information to our advertisers, corporate affiliates and consultants, and to third parties that perform particular services on our behalf.

We may also use the information linked to IP addresses to ban users who violate our Terms and Conditions of use.

"Personally Identifiable Information" is any information that personally identifies you, such as your name, street address, email address, or telephone number.

When we collect Personally Identifiable Information from you, you will have the opportunity to "opt in" to receive email or other digital communications from us and/or our business partners.

If you have submitted your personal information to eNaSiS, you may correct, amend or delete the Personally Identifiable Information maintained on file about you if it is incorrect. You will also have the option to "opt out" at any time.

Enterprise Solutions

In all cases, we will only use your information as permitted by law. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Privacy Policy, however, we may disclose Personally Identifiable Information to others if we are required to do so by law or we in good faith believe that such action is necessary to (a) comply with the law or with legal process; (b) protect and defend our rights and property; (c) protect against misuse or unauthorised use of the Site; or (d) protect the personal safety or property of our users or the public. Please note that we may not provide you with notice prior to disclosure in such cases.

Use of “Cookies”

eNaSiS uses “cookies” – data that is transferred from eNaSiS to your hard drive for record-keeping purposes. We use cookies to deliver content specific to your interests and to save your password so you do not have to re-enter it each time you visit eNaSiS.

Disclosure of Information through Business Transfers

As we continue to develop our business, we may buy, merge or partner with other companies or businesses, and in so doing, acquire customer information. In such transactions, user information may be among the transferred assets. Similarly, in the event that a portion or all of eNaSiS' assets are sold or transferred to a third party, customer information (including your email address) would likely be one of the transferred business assets.

Inclusion of any linked Web site, eNaSiS does not imply or express an approval or endorsement of the linked Web site by us, or of any of the content, opinions, products or services provided on these Web sites. Each of these linked sites maintains its own independent privacy and data collection policies and procedures. If you visit a Web site via a link from one of our Sites, we encourage you to consult that Web site's privacy policy before providing any personal information and providing consent for such information to be used, whenever interacting with any such Web site.
